Philips' Series of School Atlases.

NEW AND REVISED EDITIONS.

This favourite Atlas, which is in use in most of the principal Schools and Colleges in Great Britain and her Colonies, contains all the Maps that are required by Junior Scholars, and may be used with any Elementary Geography.

The Maps are printed on one side of the paper only, and being flat (i.e., unfolded), are admirably adapted as copies for Map Drawing.

Philips' Elementary Atlas and Geography, containing the essentials of the Geography of the World, with Thirty coloured Maps. Edited by J. Franco Williams, F.R.G.S. Crown 4to, 9 in. x 7 in., strongly bound in cloth, 3s. 6d.

Philips' Atlas and Geography of Ireland. A Description of the Country and of the several Counties, by P. W. Joyce, LL.D., and Thirty-three coloured Maps, by John Bartholomew, F.R.G.S. Medium 4to, 11 in. x 8½ in., neatly bound in cloth, 3s. 6d.

The Geography may be had separately, bound in cloth, price 2s.

WORKS BY WILLIAM HUGHES, F.R.G.S.,
Late Professor of Geography in King's College, London.
New Editions, Revised and Extended
By J. FRANCON WILLIAMS, F.R.G.S.

The Geography for Junior Teachers and Students.
Crown 8vo, 416 pp., strongly bound in cloth, price 3s. 6d.

CLASS-BOOK OF MODERN GEOGRAPHY,
With Examination Questions, Notes, and Index.

The following are some of the leading features of this popular School-book:
1. Its clear and scientific arrangement.
2. Its comprehensiveness and completeness.
3. Its thorough revision and extension.
4. The valuable sets of Examination Questions appended to each Section.
5. Its systematic arrangement of type—thus affording material aid in its study.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
The Practical Teacher says:—"There is no reason why the work before us should not take the place among the first, if not of itself the first of geographical class-books. In addition to unrivalled accuracy, this book possesses some unusually meritorious features."
The School Guardian says:—"That the book has been so much improved by the editor that it may justly claim to stand in the first rank of school books."
The Schoolmaster says:—"This volume can be strongly recommended. The able editor has been careful to correct the text where necessary from the most recent reliable sources of information. Emphatically modern."
The Head Master of a High Class School writes:—"I know no text-book on the same subject that can be compared to it."

Intermediate Class-Book of Modern Geography, with Explanatory, Historical, and Statistical Notes, and Examination Questions. Abridged from the new and enlarged edition of Hughes's Class-book of Modern Geography. Small crown 8vo, cloth, 2s. 6d.

Elementary Class-Book of Modern Geography, abridged from the larger class-book, and simplified for the use of the younger pupils. New Edition, thoroughly revised and considerably enlarged. 182 pp., foolscap 8vo, cloth, 1s. 6d.
